The secret to energy-efficiency

BLINDS THAT LOOK GOOD, TRAP HEAT AND SAVE YOU MONEY

Stylish blinds do so much more than enhance your décor. Did you know they can also significantly improve the energy efficiency of your home? Research by The British Blind and Shutter Association (BBSA) has revealed that they can cut heat loss:

- Cellular blinds: up to 40%
- Standard roller blinds: up to 13%
- Roller blinds with side channels: up to 22%
- Shutters: up to 28%

For maximum insulation, we recommend honeycomb blinds (also called cellular blinds). Their fabric is shaped into little hexagonal "pockets" that trap air. That trapped air creates a barrier between your cold windows and your room, helping to keep heat inside.

TOP TIP

USE BLINDS AS "ACTIVE INSULATION." OPEN THEM ON SUNNY DAYS TO LET WARMTH IN, CLOSE THEM AT DUSK TO TRAP IT.

Smart Blinds, Safer Home

Motorised blinds are not just a convenience or a stylish upgrade; they're also an extremely effective extra layer of home security.

With a clever timing function, they open and close automatically at set times. With modern systems you can:

- Set blinds to follow sunrise and sunset
- Randomise timings so it doesn't feel robotic
- Adjust day-by-day if your routine changes

From the street, this creates the impression of normal daily life. Even if you're miles away, your home still looks lived in. It's a small touch, but it really does make a big difference to how "occupied" your property appears.

PROUD TO BE A BBSA MEMBER

Your home is your sanctuary, so it's vital to invite only trusted professionals into your space. That's why we're proud members of the BBSA (British Blind and Shutter Association), the only UK trade association dedicated to the blinds and shutters industry.

To be a BBSA member, we must meet strict professional, legal and safety requirements. These are checked every year, not just when we first join. Membership isn't guaranteed and it can be removed, so it keeps standards high.

That gives you reassurance that:

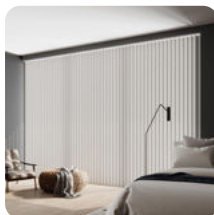

- We have the right insurance in place to protect you and your home
- Our installations meet all safety regulations
- We follow fair trading practices
- Our work and service levels are independently assessed
- There's a clear route for support and mediation if it's ever needed
